

Essay Competition – Business Ethics Award

Call for Participation

Especially in the era of globalization and internationalization, ethical values in economics are becoming increasingly important to consumers and companies alike. With the progressive development of a globalized world, problem areas of business ethics grow more complex, besides the general dilemma of how to connect economics and ethics and how to overcome their differences.

The Chance for Science Network together with the foundation Stiftung Haus Wienemann are looking forward to honoring those authors with outstanding, creative and innovative scientific approaches in the field of business ethics. Since 1992, Stiftung Haus Wienemann has offered specialist lecture events in which renowned experts discuss selected current topics and fundamental issues in the field of business ethics. The award of the Essay Competition is endowed with €500 and is sponsored by the foundation.

Essays may contain succinct, innovative and creative scientific approaches to issues like personal responsibility and self-determination in the welfare state, intergenerational and gender equality, sustainability based on resource-saving principles, Corporate Social Responsibility, compliance, consumer ethics or equitable distribution.
